

2018 Student Orientation Staff

Job Announcement and Description

Job Description

Serve as official hosts to new students and their families during IntroDUCKtion sessions. Our primary goal is to introduce new students and their families to the resources that help create smooth transitions to the university. SOSers work as a team focused on small group facilitation.

Application Procedure

- 1) Complete the application at the below link before February 1st, 2018 at 5:00pm:
https://oregon.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_4U5qbEyX12z418h
- 2) If completed by January 1st, you will be eligible for our priority deadline – allowing for early access to group interview registration.
- 3) You will receive an email with notice of your application decision within two weeks of the nearest deadline (priority or final).

Qualifications

Qualified applicants are undergraduate students, carry a minimum of 8 academic credits, and are well-rounded individuals who can speak to their experiences in multiple areas of campus life. Strong candidates will typically:

- 1) Have leadership skills and applicable experiences.
- 2) Have been involved in various aspects of student life: clubs, organizations, cultural groups, work-study, research, student government, etc.
- 3) Have familiarity with various academic and student resources on campus.
- 4) Be confident in their abilities to effectively present the positive attributes of the University of Oregon.

Remuneration

SOSers will make around $2500 before taxes, on average.
